TexTESOL V Annual Fall Conference:

November 5, 2016--a resounding success!

The 2016 TexTESOL V fall conference, "Bridging Languages and Cultures in the 21st Century," was held November 5th on the campus of Mountain View College in Dallas. This was a tremendously successful event that served to equip and inspire nearly 300 educators for ESOL students. A diverse group of educators from all over the North Texas region attended the conference, including public and private education professionals, ESL volunteer teachers, and those from K-12 as well as adult ESL and college level intensive English program educational settings. Participants were inspired by the keynote presentation given by Mr. John Seidlitz, and they engaged in dozens of sessions full of practical strategies and applicable activities to scaffold the language and literacy development of culturally and linguistically diverse students. Attendees also took advantage of the great networking opportunities with colleagues and outstanding exhibitors. Stay tuned for details about the 2017 TexTESOL Conference coming this fall!
